What this license means:

The regular license is a personal one meant for use by a single user. You can create presentations, share your files, share PDFs, create handouts, take screenshots, and convert it to flash or video etc. all of which is reasonably expected use. You can create presentations with the templates for your clients or use them in training. You can share the presentation with your team for use in training or presentation delivery.

All of this is considered regular use. The license is basically meant to prevent people from sharing the original templates OR reselling them.

Under any sort of license, you cannot share the original files with others in part or full AS IS OR sell any presentations created entirely with these templates, commercially online. Both these basically "compete" with our business.
